

As a direct OEM/ODM manufacturer, we provide fully customizable pogo pin assemblies with FPC (flexible flat cable) designed to meet your specific application needs. This product line integrates spring-loaded pogo pins with flexible FPC to create a robust, compact, and cost-efficient interconnect solution. Ideal for battery interfaces, test probe systems, modular device docking, and more.

Whether you require specific pin counts (8/9/16 or more), custom cable lengths, unique layouts, or alternative connectors at the FPC end, we can design and produce according to your exact technical specifications. Our team supports rapid prototyping and low to high-volume production with full engineering support.

Custom Capabilities Include:

- Custom pogo pin shapes, stroke lengths, and contact force
- Tailored FPC length, pitch, copper layout, and plating
- Optional connectors at the FPC end
- High-density or low-profile designs for space-saving applications

Our newly developed solution enables the direct assembly of pogo pins onto FPC soft cable, reducing weight and improving integration flexibility, especially in portable electronics and test automation industries. And we also need another FCP product: Flat 90-Degree C Port Flexible USB-C Charger Cable with Round Cable. If you are interested, please contact us
