

Product feature

Versatile & Customizable Connectivity

This Custom USB-A & USB-C to GX Aviation Connector Cable is engineered for demanding applications where reliable power and data transmission is critical. Whether you're designing medical equipment, industrial control systems, or aviation-grade communication setups, our cable offers tailor-made configurations that align perfectly with your device interface.

Space-Saving Coiled Cable Design

The slingshot-style coiled cable reduces clutter and expands effortlessly when extended. It automatically contracts when not in use—ideal for tight workspaces or mobile installations, reducing wear and enhancing cable longevity.

GX Aviation Plug Compatibility

Compatible with popular aviation connector models (GX12 / GX16 / GX20), these cables are widely used in sensor systems, control boxes, drones, and signal transmission applications. Available in 2-pin to 8-pin variants to suit your project's electrical and signal requirements.

OEM/ODM Solutions for Industrial & Medical Sectors

As a professional cable manufacturer, we offer complete OEM and ODM customization—from wire gauge and connector pinout to overmolding and branding. Our engineering team supports full-cycle product development, including prototyping and small/large batch production.
