

Product features

The USB Type-C Female to 24V PoweredUSB Cable offers a practical and durable solution for integrating modern USB-C devices with traditional POS systems requiring PoweredUSB connections. Featuring a Type-C female connector on one end and a 24V PoweredUSB male plug on the other, this cable supports power and data simultaneously.

Manufactured by a leading Dongguan supplier, our cables undergo strict quality control and are suitable for high-demand commercial environments such as retail chains, vending systems, and self-service kiosks. For similar robust connectivity solutions, explore our Industrial USB A Male with Screws to USB Type-C Male Cable, designed for secure industrial installations with customizable designs and ISO 13485/ISO 9001 certification, or our USB Type-C to 1P/2P/4P Magnetic Pogo Pin Charger Cable, which utilizes spring-loaded magnetic connectors for easy plug-and-play functionality in medical and consumer electronics applications. Both options offer OEM and customized solutions to meet various integration needs.
