

Product features

This USB Type C Female to 12V Powered USB Cable is designed for POS systems, enabling simultaneous power supply (12V DC, up to 3A) and USB 2.0-speed data transfer. It eliminates the need for separate power adapters, streamlining your setup. For similar all-in-one power and data solutions in commercial settings, explore our PoweredUSB 24V to Power USB 5V Connection Cable, a ruggedized option featuring overload protection and stable 3A power delivery for retail equipment

Featuring a robust construction, the cable is engineered to prevent signal loss and voltage drop, even under prolonged continuous use. This ensures stable performance in high-demand commercial environments such as retail chains, vending systems, and self-service kiosks. Manufactured by a Dongguan-based supplier with ISO 9001 certifications, the cable meets strict quality standards. Its durable TPU jacket and corrosion-resistant gold-plated connectors further enhance reliability, making it an ideal choice for seamless integration between modern USB-C devices and traditional POS systems. For high-reliability power applications, consider our USB Type-C Male to 24V PoweredUSB Male Cable, designed to deliver stable power and high-speed data transfer for industrial kiosks and self-service terminals.
